

CALIFORNIA REDISTRICTING WORKSHOP

Sacramento Central Library - Saturday March 12 - 1pm – 4 pm

REDISTRICTING? CENSUS? LINE DRAWING? WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

For the first time in California history state-level legislative district lines will be redrawn by an independent Citizens Redistricting Commission. The Commission has begun their work and this is your opportunity to get involved.

The University of California is hosting a series of interactive, educational workshops and opening regional redistricting technical assistance centers across the State. The purpose of the workshops is to educate all Californians on how the redistricting process works, how to access the data, and how to effectively communicate valuable information about your community.

The first workshop will be held at the Sacramento Central Library. We hope you will be able to join us for this free, interactive workshop open to the public. Let us help you become an informed California resident equipped with the tools necessary to be a part of this important process.

Redistricting Workshop

Saturday, March 12, 2011

1pm-4pm

Sacramento Central Library

828 I Street

Sacramento, CA 95814

West Meeting Room in Galleria – First Floor

Take immediate left as enter on I St. ; accessible entrance and room

For more information check out the Statewide Database website at <http://swdb.berkeley.edu/index.html>.

Please RSVP to Bonnie Glaser at beglaser@law.berkeley.edu or 510-642-8506.

The Redistricting Group at

BerkeleyLaw
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA